

Join us in celebrating Social Worker Month...

March 19
We Remember that

Social Workers Change Futures

March is national social worker month and to celebrate and recognize the important work social workers do to keep children and families safe in Los Angeles County, SEIU Local 721 is hosting a special celebration for the thousands of workers who dedicate their lives to social work.

The theme this year is "Social Workers Change Futures." In that spirit we will honor other champions of children and discuss social workers' critical role to improve the foster care system in LA County. We will honor three women who are champions for children.
