End the free ride. Wall Street corporations and the super-rich must pay their fair share.

Hard-working families, teachers and students are forced to sacrifice again with automatic “trigger cuts” that will destroy public services – social services, senior services, health care, and state colleges and public schools.

We must come together to protect public services – putting the community interest before corporate profits.

“Workers have suffered because Wall Street greed destroyed our economy and wiped out revenue for cities and counties. We must act now to stop the attacks on working families and make Wall Street do their part.”

— Jerry Clyde, Jr.
Social Worker, DCFS
