Susan Muller	811	I've been a union member since 1990 and a steward just in time for 2003 contract bargaining. I've been a member of the negotiating team since then and have gained knowledge and experience needed to follow issues from contract to contract as well as change in department management teams and their priorities. More recently, as a result 2015 bargaining, we've established the safety committee, which meets quarterly as part of the Joint Labor Management meetings. The safety meeting provides our members a forum where management, through representation, can hear about issues that affect your worksite safety at your library. Some of the achievements include signage that posts customer expectations that allows our staff as well as safety police and other agencies to enforce these expectations. I'd like to continue to help any way that I can.
Kim Peters	811	Have bargained ever contract since 1986, I bring more than 30 years of experience to work for a good contract.
